Roosevelt Field, N.Y.---The huge tri-motored Ford monoplane "Floyd Bennett," after it was flown to Roosevelt Field, L.I., for tests to ascertain the maximum weight the ship can carry at an altitude of 10,000 feet. This is the height that Byrd will fly at when he makes his flight over the Antarctic. Pilots Bernt Balchen and Harold I. June, Chief Petty Officer, U.S.N., are shown at the left.

J-110. Redwoods. These huge Sequoia grow nowhere else on the earth but in a narrow strip, scarcely 35 miles wide and 500 miles long, close to the California and Southern Oregon shoreline.

Snappy's SCENIC PORTRAITS OF THE WEST
THE subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the public, that he has again opened a

HOUSE OF PUBLIC ENTERTAINMENT;

in the town of Xenia, at the sign of the COACH AND FOUR.

His House is large and commodious, and his Stables equal to any in the State. His table will be supplied with the best that the country affords, and every attention will be paid to those who may favor him with a call.

During the summer season travellers who are desirous to make excursions in the surrounding country, can be accommodated with

SADDLE HORSES OR HACKS,

on the most reasonable terms.

He tenders his grateful acknowledgements to the public for former favors, and from his long experience as an Inn keeper, he looks confidently for a continuance of them.
